Media Release

Today marks the first day JNI Pallet Systems joining the Trafalgar Group.

The Trafalgar Group are incredibly excited to announce our latest acquisition in Safety of JNI Pallet Systems. With this newest addition to our offering, our customers have an extensive range of quality, Australian made safety solutions.

Trafalgar, since 1945, an Australian company, a 75 year legacy of innovating and manufacturing quality specialty building products and solutions, with recent years seeing a strong focus on passive fire protection, safety and security storage cabinets, and access panels.

JNI has been servicing Australian businesses for over 40 years, manufacturing innovative, top-quality steel products designed for safe and efficient product transportation and storage such as stillages and specialty pallet systems.

The joining of these two Australian Sydney- based innovative manufacturing companies will continue the legacy of Trafalgar and continue to grow Australian innovation and manufacturing.
